

MOTIVATION MINDSET

Tiffany Adams speaks, hosts and writes to spread powerful motivation to as many people as possible. She would never have imagined this particular path for her life, but she always knew greatness was her destination. Now, she uses her voice & vision to give authentic, practical encouragement to fellow amputees, individuals with disabilities, those facing mental health struggles or anyone with disadvantages. Her straight shooting & tough-love mixed with her charismatic and caring personality make her a must-have guest for panels, conferences and talk shows.

Million Dollar Self Worth

Tiffany wants people to see more than their disabilities or setbacks when they look in the mirror. She knows, first-hand, that is a process that takes time and healing. You wouldn't recognize the struggle after one minute with Tiffany. She radiates confidence and will not accept anything less than exactly what she wants. By being upfront about the work it took to get back there after her traumatic accident, she strives to help guide others to a place of high self-worth as well. Affirmations, good company, coaching, plus a proprietary blend of positivity and realness keep her on top.

Boss Up, Don't Give Up

Never afraid to take charge, Tiffany encourages leadership and entrepreneurship. If she can find her way back to her passion for fashion after almost giving up on everything, she wants everyone to know that they can take the reins of their destination. Tiffany proclaims, "We are all here for a purpose and not by chance. There is no excuse not to live to your full potential, regardless of what has transpired in your life." She adds, "Every day counts, so share your talents with the world."
